In their proper seasons the members have baseball, basketball and football teams as well as numberless gymnastic exhibitions and field meets, and these activities, coupled with the fact that the gymnasium has a seating capacity for 700 people (its size is 80 feet by 60 feet and it has a large stage), make the institution more or less of a community center and headquarters, almost all of the people in the locality using it for their various entertainments, band and orchestra practice, high-school commencements and all of that sort of thing. The institution has been managed from the first by a Board of Directors composed of people from the neighborhood, generally aided by the interested attention of the officials at Burnham, of the two Front View of Club House erected by William G. Mather. Companies, and the indications are that as normal business conditions reassert themselves, it will promptly get to be even more than selfsupporting.--Frank B. Kennedy, President. Cleveland Cliffs Iron Company, Gwinn, Mich. Gymnasium in Club House. CLEVELAND-CLIFFS IRON COMPANY, GWINN, MICHIGAN. In 1908 the Cleveland-Cliffs Iron Company began the building of a mining town, which was named Gwinn. This town is located on the Marquette, Munsing South Eastern Railway, about twenty-four miles from Ishpeming. The Company owns and operates all of the mines in this district with the exception of one small one, and thus the town is practically dependent on the activities of the Company. It was planned and...
